The Columbia Journal of World Business is a leading quarterly publication focusing on international business management. The Journal offers its readers insightful analysis of critical issues affecting all sectors of international business including administration, finance, marketing, manufacturing, labor, government regulations and much more.

In recent issues the Journal has covered:
- International Corporate Linkages
- US and China: Business Beyond Trade
- International Commercial Television
- Latin American Debt Crisis
- Maintaining Competitive Advantages

Subscription rates: Individuals $20/yr., $37.50/2 yrs., Organizations $40/yr., $75/2 yrs., Students $17.50 one year. Foreign subscribers add $4 surface postage or $12 air mail per year.

Please address orders and inquiries to:
Columbia Journal of World Business
Subscription Department
315 Uris Hall
Columbia University
New York, New York 10027